

Electronic Structure Discussion Group (ESDG)

- Fortnightly meetings of electronic structure researchers in Cambridge and nearby universities (Oxford, London)
- Started in 2001 by Mike Towler; today is the 275th meeting
- Purpose: “To promote the exchange of ideas between scientists who develop or use techniques such as density functional theory, quantum Monte Carlo, or quantum chemistry methods.”
- Giving a talk – could be:
 - An interesting paper you’ve read
 - Problems from your current research
 - Practice for a conference talk
 - Invited speakers
- Email jn336@cam.ac.uk to volunteer for a talk
